McGILLIVRAY'S LECTURES IN OHIO MAKE HIT

James McGillivray, of the East Michigan Tourist association, for nearly two decades educator with the Michigan Department of Conservation, returned Saturday, March 2nd from a two week lecturing tour in Ohio during which he visited Cincinnati, Springfield, Metamora and other cities.

Mr. McGillivray lectured on Michigan's recreational and historical appeals of Michigan wild life which have been given so much publicity. All of his pictures elicited extraordinary commendation, the beaver and eagle pictures being especially popular.

In Cincinnati in a single week, Mr. McGillivray addressed 14,000 people. An example of the reaction of the audiences is reflected in a letter which the East Michigan Tourist Association has received from Jesse Kinser, superintendent of the Metamora public schools. Mr. Kinser says:

"The Metamora public schools and rural schools of our community were given a real treat when Mr. McGillivray appeared before them and showed a real picture of 'The Wild Life of Michigan.' The introduction to the picture given by Mr. McGillivray was very interesting and instructive. We feel that the afternoon was well spent and will welcome the return of Mr. McGillivray whenever he has time to spare."

CHANGE IN LAW REGARDING TWP. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Section 2124 Compiled Laws, requires township boards to meet the second Tuesday next preceding the Annual Township meeting for the purpose of auditing and settling all claims against the township.

The Public Acts of 1927 contain an amendment to the law of 1897, regarding the publicity required in the matter of the annual itemized financial statement of townships.

Not less than five nor more than 50 copies shall be provided immediately upon the settlement being made by the township board, for distribution at the opening of the polls on election day; and six more copies shall be posted in conspicuous places at the polls at their opening on election day.

This makes a minimum of 11 copies of the itemized statement to be provided by the clerk of each township.

Heretofore some township clerks have made written copies, the requirements under the old law being three copies posted at the polls. With at least 11 copies now required, a township can get 50 printed a great deal cheaper than the clerk can make them.

The township board may, at its discretion, have the report printed in a newspaper of general circulation.

Taxpayers and voters prefer as a rule to have printed statements with copies available to take home for perusal.

The Avalanche is prepared to supply these statements, at a cost, depending on the length of statement which vary in different townships.

On orders given promptly after settlement, statements will be printed in time for township meeting.

HERBERT HOOVER IS INAUGURATED

SETS HIS PROGRAM BEFORE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

HERBERT HOOVER is now President of the United States of America and Calvin Coolidge is again a private citizen. Despite the wishes of Mr. Hoover that the inauguration be as simple as possible, the committee in charge made the event the gayest of its kind in more than a score of years, and the national capital was thronged with visitors who participated in the three days' entertainment.

The feature included a reception for the governors of a large number of states with their staffs, an air circus that enlisted army, navy and civilian aircraft, the great inaugural parade and a charity ball.

Herbert Hoover took the oath of office administered by Chief Justice Taft of the Supreme court and made his inaugural address. Thereafter the Presidential party betook themselves to the White House, ate luncheon and, from the reviewing stand in front of the executive mansion, watched the long inaugural parade which took about four hours in passing and over which hovered a hundred airplanes.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, following the precedent set by Theodore Roosevelt, left Washington in the afternoon for their home in Northampton, Mass.

President Hoover's address was listened to with enthusiasm not only by the vast crowd present but also by a radio audience that embraced a considerable part of the country's population. It set forth his view of the state of the nation and of its relations with other nations and his conception of the policies best designed to promote peace and improve living conditions. But more important, it disclosed an eminent engineer's vision of a huge program of public works in the next four years, involving the expenditure of billions of dollars, and of a farm relief program that, while costly, will, he believes, return tremendously increased profits for capital and labor.

Collecting the great expenditures suggested, the new President pointed the way to governmental economies beyond even those of the Coolidge administration. He proposed the elimination of waste in the processes of government to an extent that would save the taxpayers more than would be expended on waterways, farm relief and other projects combined. This would be accomplished by a radical reorganization of the federal government on scientific lines of reclassification of functions, elimination of overlapping, and eventual reduction of personnel.

CLOSE SEASON'S LYCEUM COURSE

KILLARNEY COLLEENS PLEASE
LARGE CROWD

The Killarney Colleens, the fourth and concluding number of the season's lyceum course, presented their entertainment here Friday evening.

The young ladies made a very decided hit with the audience. Tess Sheehan, proved a gifted dramatist, and delighted her audience with her Irish wit and her readings. She possesses a phenomenal throat that makes it possible for her to present a series of unsurpassed imitations. Her reading were inspiring and thrilling and at times very humorous.

Miss Mae Saltmarsh is one of the foremost trombone soloists in the country. She proved herself a rare artist and her trombone solos were one of the outstanding features of the entertainment.

There were a number of vocal solos by each of the young ladies and also vocal duets that were very well received.

These lyceum entertainments have been outstanding, cultural and entertaining. We have heard the best talent in music and in lecture, and the cost has been small when it is considered the fine moral influence such entertainments have upon a community.

No arrangements have been made for a lyceum course for next year and it looks as tho there will be none. We believe that if the right organization will agree to look after the ticket sales and the responsibility of conducting the entertainments that the business men will again be willing to give them their financial backing. That should be fair enough. The business men should not be expected to go out and peddle tickets.

ENJOYING VOYAGE TO WEST INDIES

INTERESTING LETTER WRITTEN
BY F. L. MICHELSON

S. S. California
Feb. 27, 1929

Mr. O. P. Schumann,
Grayling, Mich.

Dear Mr. Schumann:

On Saturday, Feb. 23rd, my family and I, accompanied by Mrs. O. M. Evans, Columbus, Ohio, left New York for a West Indies cruise. The weather was cold and great piles of snow filled the streets of New York. We embarked at 11 a. m. and after leaving our rooms and baggage, went on deck to watch the departure of the ship.

The ship was taken out into the harbor by tug. Our progress was slow and we had a good look at the Statue of Liberty. The pilot soon left us and the ship headed south. There are 520 passengers on board, a general crowd, some having taken the cruise twice before.

Saturday and Sunday were cold. By noon Sunday we had made 235 miles, and were about opposite North Carolina. We attended church service at 10:45, and there was a community singing and a concert by the orchestra in the evening.

The ship has been a little choppy, but we are all on our feet, and have not missed any of the splendid meals which are served to us. Today is perfect on board ship—bright sunshine, warm, and a fine breeze. Everybody in summer togs, and doors and windows open. It began to get warm on Monday, and we put away our heavy coats and clothing.

We arrived at Nassau Tuesday morning and anchored a short distance out in the harbor. We went ashore about 9:00 a. m. and a tender made trips from the boat to shore and returned all day long to accommodate the passengers. The temperature was 80 degrees in the shade in Nassau and the sun was very hot. We took a drive around the island and visited the places of interest. The boys had a bathing party in the afternoon with the usual result—some got warm from the sun, and at night returned to Nassau for a drink at one of the hotels. They have two very modern new hotels in Nassau, and some very nice new homes which were pointed out to us as bootleggers' homes. Nassau is called the bootlegger's paradise, and the reason is because of the rum from Jamaica. They are building new piers and making many other public improvements from the revenue received from the sale of bootleg liquors. We were told that flowers on the island were beautiful and we saw some wonderful specimens of the silk cotton tree, one two centuries old, quite picked up by tree surgery but still alive.

A short time out of New York, some one said they had a lot of wet goods on board, and a regular old-fashioned bar, and as Inspector of the Sunrise Club, it was my duty to investigate, and I will file my report on my return. I will say, however, that the statement was correct.

We are now on our way to Havana, scheduled to arrive there Wednesday morning, Feb. 28th, and are promised a wonderful two days in that beautiful city.

The ship has radio connection with the States and receives the stock market reports and the latest news from Washington.

Sincerely yours,
Frank L. Michelson.

MICH. LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Michigan Press Association,
Lansing Bureau

"They shall not pass" seems to be the war-time slogan adopted by the legislature in regard to important measure at the present session.

Two months of the session gone and not an appropriation measure of any kind has gone through the mill. Neither does relief for the hospitals of the state seem any nearer a solution than when the session opened. A bond proposal for twenty millions for which passed the Senate and came to the House under pressure to be rushed through in time for a vote of the people at the spring election, was murdered in the House Thursday afternoon, in the most stirring session of the year. "Now what's to be done?" is the outstanding question and there are nearly as many different answers as there are members.

The administration measure providing for amendments to the criminal code, House Bill No. 116, was passed by the House Thursday afternoon by the overwhelming vote of 72 to 18. Most of the dry members voted for the bill in spite of desperate efforts by Rev. R. M. Plimpton, anti-saloon league lobbyist. The bill had the hearty endorsement of the governor, the attorney general and his aides, Commissioner Arthur Wood of the pardon and parole department, of prosecuting attorneys and law enforcement officers from all over the state. The Cuthbertson bill or some similar measure will undoubtedly be passed which will make the liquor laws and their enforcement even more practical than they are under the present laws.

There is much favorable comment on a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Conlon of Grand Rapids which would provide home rule under a charter for counties. It is said that this would greatly reduce running expenses, particularly in the more sparsely settled of the northern counties, and thus reduce the excessive tax rate of such counties. The bill carries a referendum clause.

Opposition to the amusement tax bill was voiced strenuously at the public hearing Monday night, following the regular session. Claims were made that the tax would put a great majority of small town movie houses out of business. The bill, which had been referred to the ways and means committee, has not as yet been reported out.

The Senate Monday night passed a bill providing for an advertising appropriation of $100,000 to help the four tourist associations advertise the recent attractions of the state.

The House passed five bills at the Monday evening session, one establishing a fund for county law libraries, one permitting one country district to provide transportation for pupils from another district, one to provide for discharge of tax liens and land contracts in like manner as mortgages, one to provide for the disbandment of sparsely settled townships and one to provide for refund of drain assessments if funds are fraudulently expended.

Rep. McNitt introduced a bill making it a felony to own or drive a car equipped to lay down a smoke screen, such as is sometimes used by bandits to help their escape from a posse.

DEFEATED BOYNE CITY GIRLS IN 1927

Sawteille, Calif.
March 1, 1929

Mr. Oscar P. Schumann,
Grayling, Michigan.

Dear Sir:

I wish to call your attention to the fact that an error was made in the school notes of your paper published February 21, 1929, stating that the Grayling Girls basket ball team had never defeated Boyne City. You will recall, however, that in the year of 1927, B. E.'s Basket Ball Bobbies defeated Boyne City on our own floor while they in turn defeated us on their floor.

Will you please correct this error? For any further information you will find in your paper published that year, or write to Miss Gertrude Loskos who was our captain for that year.

Thanking you in advance, I remain,
Yours very truly,
Florence Lindahl.

Please remember the date and attend this play which will be rendered in the gymnasium of the Frederic high school for the benefit of the Senior class. Excellent music will be furnished and other specialties that will be very pleasing to the audience. If you come, you will laugh, grow fat, and be prepared for a most enjoyable week end.

The price of admission will be 35 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Dinner will be served in the basement beginning promptly at 5:30 and ending at 7:30 Standard time.

There will also be a chance to buy some of the best home made candy you ever ate.

The price of the dinner will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

This play which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock is one of the most amusing you ever read. The teachers have given their class considerable practice and we believe if you come that you will feel you have had the worth of your money, and at the same time you will help our Senior class.

STATE TO MAKE PINES ACCESSIBLE

Lansing, Feb. 28.—The Hartwick Pines Park, one of the links in Michigan's growing chain of state parks, may be readily accessible to the tourist within the next year or so. The park boasts of the most typical tract of the old-fashioned Michigan white pines that exists today. There are about 75 acres of these monarchs of the forest, thought to average about 150 years in age. Old timers who provide for discharge of tax liens and land contracts in like manner as mortgages, one to provide for the disbandment of sparsely settled townships and one to provide for refund of drain assessments if funds are fraudulently expended.

Rep. McNitt introduced a bill making it a felony to own or drive a car equipped to lay down a smoke screen, such as is sometimes used by bandits to help their escape from a posse.

THE STORY

CHAPTER I.—In New York, Hugh Chesby, English World War veteran, was a story of a treasure in Constantinople in the city which his uncle, Lord Chesby, firmly believed. The cablegram was a message from his uncle, Lord Chesby, who was in Constantinople. The cablegram was a message from his uncle, Lord Chesby, who was in Constantinople.

there was no word of them, and we began to worry in earnest. We waited for the door to open, but it didn't. We waited for the door to open, but it didn't.

"Perhaps it would be advisable to hire a boat and search for them in the harbor," suggested King. "Their engine may have broken down."

"We had better split our forces," Nicka objected. "Engine trouble would never bother Betty, Hugh said. 'Still, I don't like it.'"

"We are probably worrying about nothing," I said. "After all, it was a blessing to disguise that she stayed out so late. It insured against her being caught by that note in case we hadn't intercepted it."

"I'm not interested in it and had snuffed Hugh. 'I don't like this delay. Those devils of Toulou's are capable of having an extra trick in reserve.'"

"I vote we go back to the hotel," proposed Nicka. "Maybe I can pick up one of my gypsies. We could start them out on the trail."

Nikka's suggestion did not make anybody any happier. It indicated that he, like the rest of us, was coming to the conclusion that the situation was serious. It indicated that he, like the rest of us, was coming to the conclusion that the situation was serious.

"But you can't trust them," I cried. "Helene as much as told you so. We've got to stick together."

"If it's there," Hugh reminded me. "If it's there, then they would find nothing of jumping us, either by force or by snuff. I'd like to see them try that."

"They might even stage a fake hold-up on the part of a government agency," Nicka added cheerfully. "In plain language, their proposition is: heads we win, tails you lose."

"Yes, supposing you permit them to take the lead from your hands," agreed Nicka. "However, I am reminded of a memorandum I was once privileged to listen to as a soldier of the Legion. A general named Foch read us a citation, and then told us how to go on winning more."

"He said, 'It is the soldier who at the price of victory, never permit himself to be deceived by a false promise. Always attack.'"

"True," assented Hugh. "And we've been able to stall their gang so far by taking the initiative."

"But if we can't trust them," I cried. "Optimism is all right, but—"

"about it until it was right on us. Even then we thought they'd only lost control of their rudder like that. But when they bumped us and tumbled about, I knew they weren't up to no good, you, ladskip."

"Miss Betty, looked for a gun and so did I. But somebody grabbed her, and somebody else pushed me over, at the same time a chap lashed at me with an iron-weighted club. I thought I'd knocked my brains out on a wall, but except I felt so hot on account of being pushed, I was under the level of the raft when the club hit me and one of the blow went into the rail. Splintered it, it did, you ladskip. And but for that I wouldn't be here."

"And Miss Betty?" questioned Hugh eagerly. "I don't know, but ladskip. When I saw anything again I was 'yin' on the floor. The cockpit, dusk was coming, and the launch was drifted far out to sea. They'd stopped the engine. I don't know how I got back here. My head went round and round. But I thought if I could get to you, your ladskip and gentlemen, maybe we could think of something else to do. Just give me a chance to try my hands at it. Here Tootoo! I'll be 'is end for him."

"He had a spare trick ready," commented Nicka. "Our visit to him was part of a plot to get hold of Betty. You see, they would have caught her, whether she had gone sailing or not."

The farmer who pays clover-seed prices for red clover seed mixed with weed seeds not only pays for useless stuff, but he will be put to considerable expense for several years afterwards, especially if the weeds are thorn, wild carrot, Canada thistle, or dock. With a simple magnifying glass, costing less than a dollar, anyone can readily pick out the weed seeds from a sample of clover. Good red-clover seed is plump, bright, and varies in color from yellow to deep violet. Some brown seeds are always present, but there should not be many, as they are often dead.

The Standard Oil Company is geared to anticipate your needs. We keep Iso-Vis and Polarine available. These two good oils are up to the job—both do a good job.

Polarine is the standard motor oil. It maintains a protective cushioning film of oil between frictional surfaces. Drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with fresh Polarine for maximum efficiency and economy.

Iso-Vis is the new type constant viscosity motor oil. It will not thin out. It lubricates thoroughly and constantly the remotest frictional surfaces. It wears and wears and wears. It costs a bit more, but its use makes frequent crankcase changes unnecessary.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATIVE

—S. LETTER

penalized for the time-honored introduction of the one hundredth bill. The dinner was followed by a dancing party.

The Senate has passed the Sink bill permitting township treasurers to hold more than two terms and the Richardson bill to permit an investigation of township and district school records and to provide for institution of suits by taxpayers who feel themselves aggrieved.

Rep. Look sponsors a bill placing county school commissioners under supervision of board of supervisors as to expenses, and another to limit the expense of making the school census.

A public hearing on the capital punishment proposition was held Wednesday, at which many speakers favored the measure while but three speakers opposed it. All three of them being Detroit social workers. Five capital punishment bills have been introduced in the Senate but as yet none of them have been reported out. None have made their appearance as yet in the House, which is awaiting action by the Senate. Sentiment in the House is apparently stronger in favor of capital punishment.

Thumbs were turned down in the House on Rep. Frank Wade's bill giving the legislature power to make workmen's compensation compulsory. The measure had been amended to exclude farm and household laborers, but was voted down even as amended.

Rep. Watson, chairman of the judiciary committee, sponsors legislation which would require filing of fingerprints and other identification methods with the state identification bureau and also with the national bureau at Washington, of all persons convicted of felonies.

A measure introduced by Rep. Armstrong would permit state aid to so-called "Home Loan Districts," for building small homes with garden plots for workers unable to finance home plans for themselves. The proposition calls for a state-wide referendum. A public hearing was held on the matter Wednesday before the House committee on revision and amendment. Opponents to the measure claim it has been a failure in New York, North Dakota and California, where it has been tried. The bill has not as yet been reported out of committee.

Senator Peterson has introduced a bill providing that auto insurance companies shall make a $25 deductible clause in every policy. He claims the full coverage clause is responsible for many accidents, because careless drivers strip fenders and cause other damage under the proposition of "Let the insurance company take care of it."

A bill in the Senate, sponsored by Senator O'Connell, providing for inspection of chicken hatcheries, under a bureau of the Department of Agriculture. The bill carries an appropriation of $20,000.

Four bills regulating oil and gas wells and production have passed the Senate and have been sent to the House. They authorize the state to govern production, stock issues and gas rates.

Senator Kolowich sponsors a bill limiting primary school money distribution to $300 per pupil.

Senator Conlon has a bill providing that drivers who have their licenses suspended must have $10,000 insurance coverage before having their licenses restored.

A bill giving the commissioner of agriculture power to revoke licenses of those found guilty of unfair and unethical business practices passed the House Wednesday on a division, 57 to 20. Opponents of the bill claimed it was a "price-fixing" measure and claimed it as unconstitutional.

A bill permitting cities to bond for garbage disposal plants passed by a vote of 75 to 12 in the House.

A bill giving corporations power to condemn property for construction of hydro-electric plants was introduced by Senator Rushton, under regulation of the public utilities commission.

Rep. Farrand introduced a measure Thursday to take $500,000 from the automobile title division money for building and maintaining new buildings for the state police.

Senator Woodruff has introduced a bill sponsored by the osteopaths providing that applicants for licenses must have had two years of college one year of intern work in hospital training or one year in college and service. It would also permit osteopaths to treat eye, ear, nose, and throat troubles. The Senate committee on public health has agreed to eliminate the osteopaths from the proposed basic science law if applicants for license hold a college degree or have attended a major college for not less than two years. A bill allowing county boards of supervisors to control county fairs if the county owns the fair grounds, has passed the Senate and is now being held by a House committee.

Adjournment was taken Friday, after a short session, until Monday evening. Warfare is likely to be spirited next week over appropriations and financial matters after the week-end vacation. It is probable that various new plans will make their appearance early in the week.

NAVY DIVER AWARDED GOLD STAR

The Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, learn that Raymond C. Wilson, Chief Torpedoman, U.S.N., who previously won the Navy Cross for his work on the S-5 salvage operation, has been awarded a gold star for his heroic work in connection with the rescue operations following the more recent disaster to the S-4. It is not the custom to give a second Navy Cross, but in lieu thereof a gold star is presented to be worn with the original Navy Cross. The Navy Cross is awarded by the Navy Department to members of the navy who distinguish themselves by exceptional heroism.

Smart Sports Truck

Smart to a degree is this sports truck with its excellent red knitted blouse of silk and wool and its white tailored flannel skirt. With this costume Lois Moran, the lovely young Fox films star, who is an "outdoor girl," wears a white wool scarf and a white French felt hat, also fitting. White kid shoes with military heels complete the costume.

Jacket Ensemble

Here is a jacket ensemble in black and white for early spring wear. The dull hat crepe gives the effect of velvet. The blouse offers a smart contrast in shiny white satin, embroidered with silver thread. Note the chic bow on the left hem of the skirt, and the luxurious use of white fur trimming. The hat is soft crocheted straw with wisps of white feathers, caught to the underbrim.

FREDERIC NEWS

Saturday eve wedding bells were ringing for John Malco and Mrs. Day. Of course the community was not surprised as it had been expected before; good luck to you both. Rev. Earl tied the knot.

Mrs. A. Leng is enjoying a visit with friends from Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Leng returned from a lengthy vacation in Ohio and other points.

Mr. Moots is at Mercy Hospital at present, getting medical care.

Mrs. Erv Roe who has had the flu very badly is improving.

One of the Bay City fruit trucks had the misfortune to have the windshield broken by stones thrown by mischievous persons, which was not very sedative to the driver's temperament.

Mrs. Charles Craven who has been under the doctor's care for the last two weeks is much improved. Also Mr. Goshorn.

FACTS CONCERNING AUTOS

Seventy-eight per cent of the world's 31,725,000 automobiles are in the United States, according to the Automobile Club of Northern Michigan.

There are 51,600 public garages in the United States.

At the close of 1927 America had over nine billion dollars invested in motor vehicles.

An asphalt and steel pavement is to be tried in Paris.

There are 5,450,000 motor vehicles registered on the farms of the United States.

The mileage of travelable roads is four times that of railroads.

The public has invested $10,000,000 in roads in less than ten years.

Special motor vehicle taxes pay one-third of the costs of road building.

The world's highway mileage is 6,500,000 miles with 3,000,000 in the United States.

The outstanding demand for road building is now in the public land states of the West.

The second Pan-American Congress of the Highways of Rio de Janeiro in 1929 and the assembly of engineers from all parts of the world as delegates to the International Road Congress in the United States in 1930 will do much to stimulate world interest in highway improvement.

The program of road building is increasing, four states voted $240,000,000 in highway bonds at last election.

Highway engineers of the U. S. set a new mark of achievement during 1928 when they added another 50,000 miles to the surfaced highways of the country.

Headless Ghost Reported

Sunk on the Channel Islands, is having ghost stories. Many declare that a headless man in black and white and riding a little horse, has been seen in different parts of the country. Another tale is that a special midnight monk roams the island each night and catches evil mortals.

WANTED—MORE SMILES

"What the world wants is more smiles. Not the cheap, tailor-made, superficial, ghastly, thin-skinned, diplomatic grimace; but the good, wholesome, big-hearted smile that leaves no room to doubt its genuineness. That kind of a smile is always at a premium. They are deeply rooted, hence they draw nourishment from the innermost recesses of a warm heart, kept so by the reflected rays of the sunny countenance they light up. Smile in the street, in the office, in the workshop, in the kitchen, in the parlor, in the schoolroom, the playground. Smile everywhere. Smiles are the sunshine that comes bursting thru dispersing clouds, revealing heaven's own blue."—J. W. Burgess.

Elderly Man

Sick 10 Years
Lauds Konjola
"Konjola is the Medicine I Should Have Had in the First Place," He Declares

MR. A. C. FERRIS

"Even though I am sixty years old, Konjola went to the source of my ten years' illness, and soon gave me new, lasting health," said Mr. A. C. Ferris, 714 North Warren Avenue, Saginaw, Michigan. "I praise this medicine so that others may profit by the lesson my experience teaches. My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate caused intense distress. I often became nauseated because of the sour condition of my stomach. I lacked appetite, pep and energy, and lost weight and strength. I was also troubled with constipation. "I heard of the wonderful accomplishments and success of this new Konjola, and wondered if it would benefit me. The only way to find out was to give it a trial. What a blessing it is that I did. Right from the start I was benefited, and by the time I had finished the third bottle I was a different man. My digestive organs have been cleansed and regulated, and I now get the proper nourishment from my food. I have gained in weight and strength, and know the relief is lasting. Konjola is the master medicine of them all, and I have heard it called the medicine with more than a million friends. Well, it certainly made a life long friend out of me."

Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich. at the Mac & Gidley drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.
